

enable.me

financial strategy & coaching

It's not your financial starting point
that's important.
It's your trajectory.

STRATEGIC COACH

Kristin Sutherland

MBA

Financial Services Certificate, Level 5 - Financial Planning & Services

---

WHAT KRISTIN'S CLIENTS SAY

"I liked that Kristin was thorough, didn't judge my spending habits, and made me feel like I had options. She also explained things in ways that were easy to understand."

"It was really easy to talk to Kristin. The information she gave us was clear and she related it to our individual situation. Very informative and has given us some great knowledge about our future."

Kristin came to enable.me with a wealth of experience - both in the financial world as well as a range of other industries. This enables her to relate to clients from all walks of life - both on a personal and professional level.

While she originally studied in the medical field, Kristin decided to become a coach so she could follow her passion for assisting others in achieving their financial goals. She sees it as a privilege to be able to leverage her expertise and knowledge about property, growing wealth and retirement, to provide guidance and support to her clients so they can achieve their financial goals.

One of her favourite pieces of advice she's ever received about finances is that if you want to invest, don't quit your day job - a tenet she follows to this day.

As active outside of the financial world as she is in it, Kristin loves to travel, engage in watersports, and starts off every day with a walk along the beach with her dog.

---